

SINEANN
NEWBERG, OR

OVERVIEW | Sineann's Peter Rosback started his wine journey as an amateur winemaker. While helping at Elk Cove Winery during crush, he met David O'Reilly, who was then working in the winery's marketing department. With Irish heritage and love of good wine in common, they struck a partnership and created Sineann in 1998. Today, under Rosback's direction, Sineann produces single vineyard, highly crafted Zinfandel, Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. White wines include Gewurztraminer and Pinot Gris. Zinfandel grapes come from a 100-year-old vineyard in Washington. Pinot Noir grapes come from the best growers in Oregon. Most recently, Peter has added vineyard sources in California and New Zealand as well.

ANNUAL PRODUCTION: 12,000 cases

TOP SITES: Resonance, Schindler, Wyeast, Phelps Creek, Champoux

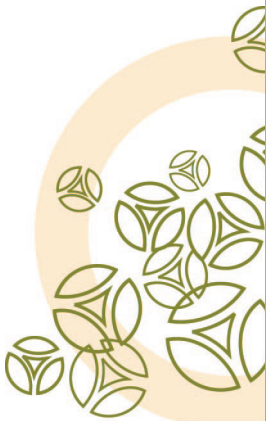

SOIL TYPES: various volcanic-based soils

GRAPE VARIETIES: pinot noir, zinfandel, cabernet sauvignon, pinot gris, chardonnay, sauvignon blanc, others

VINEYARD/CELLAR PRACTICES | The growers have great pride in the grapes they provide Sineann. Almost all the wines are vineyard designated. No expense is spared in the pursuit of great wine. Crop levels are kept very low, one to three tons per acre. Winemaking is meticulous. All fruit is hand sorted, delicately destemmed, punched down by hand, gently pressed and gravity racked. The wines are aged in new and one year old French oak. The bottom line is, they strive to make great wine. "It's the only kind of wine that makes it onto our dinner table. It's exciting to make and gratifying to share. We believe that food and drink, lovingly prepared, make for happier and healthier people."
