

CHAMPAGNE
COTE DE SEZANNE
THIERRY TRIOLET
BETHON

OVERVIEW | The Champagne house of Thierry Triolet is located in the village of Bethon. The vineyards in Bethon are part of the Côtes de Sezanne region of Champagne which begins about 20 miles southwest of Epernay and extends southward from the town of Sezanne. Geologically, this narrow band of hills is a continuation of the more massive Côtes des Blancs. Traditionally, the Sezanne vineyards have been a source of excellent Chardonnay grapes for the large negociant Champagne houses to the north.

VINEYARD AREA: 10 hectares

SOIL TYPES: clay-limestone

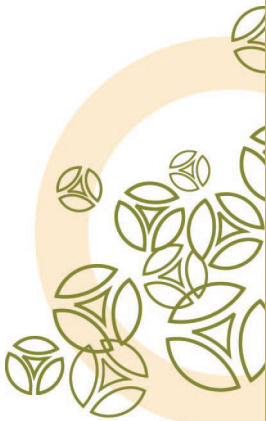

GRAPE VARIETIES: chardonnay, pinot noir

The Triolets are one of a growing number of families who have recently begun estate bottling their champagne. They own 10 hectares in and around the village of Bethon and almost all of their vineyards are planted to Chardonnay.

VINEYARD/CELLAR PRACTICES | M. Triolet farms in accordance with the principles of “lutte raisonnée” a practice of minimal intervention and he is committed to having low yields. Fermentations are carried out in a variety of cuves and no cultured yeasts are added.

WINES | Brut Non-Vintage - a blend of Chardonnay 80% and Pinot Noir 20%. It is blended from mature wines, usually from three different vintages which after blending are put in the bottle to rest for a minimum of three years on the lees. This produces a richly textured and yeasty flavored house style.

Vieilles Vignes - a vintage Champagne produced only in the best years. It is made entirely from Chardonnay and is harvested from one parcel with vines that are at least 40 years old. This cuvée evolves beautifully over time.
